

Seeking entry into Paramedicine?

Work for National Patient Transport to kick start your career

National Patient Transport (NPT) offers Graduate Paramedics the opportunity to consolidate learning and gain valuable clinical and patient care experience.

NPT provides Non-Emergency Patient Transport (NEPT) to public Health Services and private hospitals in Victoria, NSW, and WA. We transport patients with a wide range of clinical needs. Our fleet is tailored to meet the mobility and clinical requirements of patients and consists of fully equipped ambulances, wheelchair vehicles, and sedans.

State Ambulance Services value the experience that working in the NEPT sector provides, often seeking to recruit Paramedics from the NEPT workforce. Working with NPT provides the necessary experience to navigate hospitals, consolidate handover skills, improve stretcher handling, patient assessment and essential communication skills. This ensures Graduate Paramedics are provided with the knowledge and experience to transition to the emergency sector.

In Victoria, NPT has contracts with Ambulance Victoria and various major Health Services. NPT also provide staff for events such as the AFL, AFLW, Cricket Australia, MotoGP, and Superbikes. In NSW crews are dispatched by HealthShare and service public hospitals. In Perth NPT is a preferred provider for Inter-Hospital and Community Transport Services. NPT also transfers patients to regional areas daily.

One employee had the following feedback about his experience at NPT:

“Working for NPT I learnt key skills such as stable platform driving, how to use Elks and stretchers, and where the health services are and how to navigate them. I have been able to work on my communication skills, working with other professionals in the industry and communicating with hospital staff. With NPT you really get to put your skills into practice.”

If you are looking for a valuable pathway into Paramedicine and the emergency services, experience with NPT will allow you to put your skills into practice, in a wide variety of settings, and to put your best foot forward toward a highly rewarding career.
